Return to Peace time causes new problems to
arise

Around 4.5 million soldiers have returned, finding that their jobs have been filled by others. Most gave up the jobs to the returned soldiers, but just as the Veterans were looking for work, the government
canceled the need for war materials.
Plus, demands for goods exceeded supply, causing prices to rise... THUS...
RECESSION!

CRAZY NEWS

With the crazy reporter...

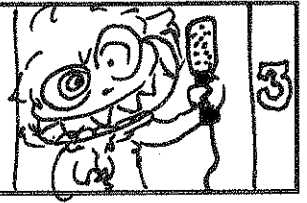

No more war, please!

Hoping to prevent another world war... the US began to follow a policy of disarmament. Disarmament is a limitation on military weapons. The US also limited its Navy.

Drunks! problems with prohibition....

January 16, 1920, 18th amendment went into effect - national prohibition. It banned the sale, manufacture, and transportation of alcoholic beverages. It was hard to make people follow prohibition.

Speakeasies - secret illegal clubs that served alcohol... bootleggers described how smugglers hid bottles of alcohol in their bods.

FADS!

Fads are interests that many people follow with great excitement for a short time. Some fads were marathons, dancing and mah-jongg. Mass media spread fads like wild fire! And in the future there will be ETCH-A-SKETCHES!

The Toledo Times

- The Flappers Flap their way through a changing society.

These young ladies use their freedom to challenge traditional dress and behavior.

Preston W. Slosson, from the Great Crusade and After said, "She is breezy, slangy and informal in manner; slim and boyish in form; covered with silk and fur, with carmined cheeks and lips, plucked eyebrows, and close fitting hair. She cared little for approval or disapproval."

Women now are elected into office, and being able to vote

The presence of Flappers showed how life was changing dramatically for women in the 1920's.

- Scandals make their way through Harding's Presidency

President Warren G.

Harding may have selected talented leaders to be in his cabinet, But President Harding himself, is not so lucky in terms of being a talented, gifted leader

Perhaps one of his biggest mistakes was being friends with members of the Ohio Gang. "I have no trouble with my enemies, But my friends keep me waking the floor nights." Says Mr. President.

Maybe he should listen to his own advice.

"How silly. There will never be a worse president than Warren G. Harding."

The Toledo Times

- An outbreak of -
Speakeasies.

Speakeasies are making it real easy to get liquor
all around the country.

For those of you who claim they don't know what they are, they are secret
illegal clubs that served alcohol.

Speakeasies mostly got their alcohol from bootleggers, who hide
alcohol in their boxes.

The Federal Government tried many of times to close down the speakeasies
and stop the bootleggers, but it met with limited success.

- A Fad Breakout -

Fads dramatically increased during the 1920's.

For those of you who don't know what a fad is, it is an interest that many people follow with great excitement for a short time.

Many of the Fads in the 1920's were marathons, dancing and mah-jongg. Magazines, newspapers, movies, and the radio helped the development and the spread of fads.

- Booming Times -

Perhaps the biggest invention of the "Booming Times"
was Henry Ford's Model T.

The Model T was exceptionally great because it could be driven on almost any surface.

The invention of Assembly Lines greatly helped the production of the Model T.

Because of the success
of the car, other industries were successful too. For example, the steel industries
and the petroleum industry.

Xenophobia case
is the cause of two deaths.

Massachusetts-TWO

foreigners from Italy were charged with robbing a mass.
shoe factory and killing the payroll clerk and guard on May 5th, although the state didn't have solid proof. Some people thought that the men were accused of the crime because they were anarchists. A lot of people fought for their rights but they were convicted and sentenced to death.
They were executed August 23, 1927. This incident caused the American Civil Liberties Union to form.
